EDKINS CATALOG NEWS

Lots of letters - big, little and medium sized plus post cards !! All have been bringing orders for Volume I of the Second Edition of "Edkins' Catalogue of Coal Company Store Scrip." From New York to Washington, Florida to California, and Michigan to Texas, we have received orders from twenty states for more than 75 of the bound and loose leaf books!! The response has been quite gratifying !!

Recent discussions with the printer leads us to believe that the book could be ready for distribution by late February or early March. There may be a slight chance for an earlier date, but we are not optimistic.

We will start shipment of your orders the same day we receive the supply. So, to insure that you get an early copy, send us your order as soon as possible. The regular retail price for the hard bound copy will be $30.00 and for the loose leaf $27.00. Member prices from now until 90 days after publication notice in SCRIP TALK will be $27.00 for the hard bound and $24.00 for the loose leaf. All prices are postage paid.

Since there is a market for a special limited collector edition, the Catalogue Committee decided to have the first 25 copies of the book prepared with a special high quality collector binding, serially numbered and signed by Don Edkins, to sell to book collectors. We are offering these special books to members before making a public offering. We already have commitments from 16 members who learned about our plans. Since only nine copies are left, we will assign them to the first nine members whose request we receive by phone (call Bill Williams 615-482-1616), or mail to the address below. This collector edition is priced at $60.00, postage paid.

Following is a listing of the members from whom we already have received orders for the Catalogue. If your name is not listed, send your order today to the address below: Edkins, Schenkman, Tippy, Hitt, Caldwell, Schaeper, C. Blakeman, Podgurski, J. SCRIPTORS IN THE NATIONAL NEWS SPOTLIGHT !!!

SCRIPTOR DALE SHAHEEN, WILLIAMSON, W.VA. WAS SEEN ON THE NBC TODAY SHOW (DEC. 20, 1983) being interviewed in Syria. He, as a private citizen, was there to attempt to secure the release of Lt. Goodman who was captured when his plane was shot down during a bombing mission.

SCRIPTOR DAVE ZEGER, LEXINGTON, KY., was appointed recently by President Ronald Reagan to head the National Mine Safety unit of the U. S. Government (hope I have the correct name - I misplaced my newspaper article). DAVE was our host for the convention of NSCA a few years back when we met at Harlan, Ky.

'DIS AND DATA' as time and space permits....SCRIPTOR JAMES THOMPSON, 170 Thompson Dr., Bridgeport, WV 26330, is still looking for a copy of "COAL COMPANY SCRIP", my original book on coal tokens. If you are willing to part with your copy, please drop Jim a note !!..... Scriptor LEWIS JACKSON, Campbell, OH, is looking for scrip from Briar Creek Black Band. Too, he desires scrip from Lico, WV. Why not correspond with this new member??.... WHAT A BONUS you get from NSCA membership !! A review of last year indicates that SEVEN bulletins were mailed... The original plan was for FOUR issues !! The Janitor hopes that the six or seven pace can be maintained during 1984 !!.....WILLIAM FOWLER, Austin, TX pens that he must resign his membership due to age and angina. He notes that his association with NSCA has been quite pleasant and that he intends to devote his available time and energy to TAMS - his first love.....SCRIPTOR ARLIE SLABAUGH of Springfield, PA writes that he has located an envelope from C. B. HAVENS & CO. mine and company store. It bears an Omaha, Nebraska address, however, DODRILL book indicates mine at DANFORTH, MISSOURI. Reckon the coal was mined in Missouri and Sales Office was in NEBRASKA....SCRIPTOR GLYN V. FARBER, 1618 15th St., Lake Charles, LA 70601, is cataloguing tokens of Louisiana. He would appreciate any help NSCA members can provide for this project !!..... LEE NOTT of APO, New York, indicates that he is forced to resign from NSCA. He notes that he belongs to more organizations than he can keep up with!!.....W. G. MC ADAMS of Melbourne, FL also pens that a lack of spare time will prevent his renewing NSCA membership for 1984.

NOTE: For those of you who are keeping your membership rosters current, you can cross out the names of those listed in this article as resigning from membership. Too, many are listing the new members from each bulletin in their roster so that they will be up-to-date on all the members!!

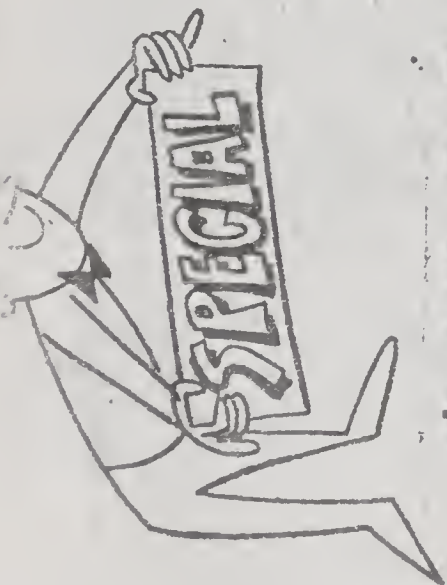

SCRIPTOR COLONEL BILL MURRAY of Ozone, Arkansas sends a special carry the load" for the organization!! Bill, incidentally, in his columns in the numismatic press often mentions that those interested in token collecting should join NSCA.....SCRIPTOR DAVE WHISMAN continues to find some exciting coal items. His latest jewel is a $5. token from Royal Collieries im Morgan Co., KY. This will be listed as 2107A500 in the new Edkins with an R-10 rating, Dave.....Too, Dave has been corresponding with SCRIPTOR DAVE ZEGER (See note on Zegeer in this issue) and he mentions that he is looking forward to his new challenge as Director of the Mine Safety and Health Administration.....

SCRIPTOR WILLIAM JOHNSON of Pontiac, Mi pens that he does not feel that $27.00 is too much for the new Edkins catalog even though he has only a few coal tokens to catalog. Too, he sends along best Christmas wishes to the Editor, Typist and Janitor of the "SCRIP TALK" staff.....M. L. WERNER, JR. of Philadelphia, PA has also decided to drop his NSCA membership....

SPECIAL OFFER FOR ALL NSCA MEMBERS !! HOBBIES "The Magazine For Collectors" has a special subscription deal for you !! Send your subscription to the Editor of SCRIP TALK....SCRIPTOR ELIJAH SINGLEY, Springfield, IL sends along selective pages from THE COAL INDUSTRY IN AMERICA, a publication from W.Va. University Foundation in Morgantown, WV (1977). Was interesting to note that both Dodrill's book (75a) and your Editor's book (2645) "Coal Company Scrip" are listed in the publication.....He sent along also an interesting reprint from the Nov.-Dec. 1983 issue of ILLINOIS MAGAZINE which contains the story of the CHERRY ILLINOIS MINE DISASTER of Saturday, Nov. 13, 1909. (Note: Elijah, if you will get permission from them, we would like to run this article in a future bulletin)....

MINE LIGHTING SECTION

GUY'S DROPPER Carbide Cap Lamp

The GUY'S DROPPER lamp is very well known to miners and collectors of mining lights. As well it should be, since the lamps were made for nearly fifty years by the Shanklin Manufacturing Company of Springfield, Ill. George Shanklin started making the narrow-waisted style lamps about 1912 in a backporch shop. He was joined by his brothers Edgar and William Elmer in what became a well established manufacturing business during the World War I period.

In 1919, the company achieved its record annual production of 750,000 lamps. Edgar was President and George was General Manager while the business flourished in the early '20s. After Edgar had died, George decided to sell-out and retire about 1925. The sale was apparently accomplished by 1927 when several new officers are found associated with the company. Theodore Hoffacker was Chairman of the Board and George W. Frost was vice-president. Elmer Shanklin was still listed as President that year but was soon forced out and he started a competitive company called Shanklin Metal Products Co. (another story). Some bad business decisions by the new officers compounded by the start of the Great Depression forced the sale of the company again in the '30s.

Universal Lamp Co. bought the manufacturing facilities in 1932 and continued to make GUY'S DROPPER lamps along with its own AUTO LITE brand until 1960. Universal closed the plant in 1960 and transferred to Tennessee, dropping the carbide lamps from its product line.

Throughout the five decades of production, the GUY'S DROPPER lamp was made in its basic narrow-waisted, flat-tanked style. The main feature of these lamps is the water valve invented in 1912 by Frank Guy. This inventor/miner also lent his name to the lamp. Several dozen variations to the lamp exist, including different die markings, hook-mounts, reflector mounts, and sizes. But all variations are consistent in style and brand name. (Early style lamp pictured to left.)

Three other brand names have been attributed to the Shanklin Mfg. Co. before 1930. Of two lamps with a similar style, one is simply marked SHANKLIN MFG. CO. INC. and does not have the famous Guy water valve; the second lamp is marked POCAHONTAS and does use the Guy water valve. The POCAHONTAS was patented in 1925 by G. W. Frost.

Of a totally different style is the SQUARELITE. This lamp has a square body for the water tank, is marked with both GUY'S DROPPER and SQUARELITE, and is found in several variations. It was patented in 1916.
